Dear Dr Brushe,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to your organisation's priorities.

Unfortunately due to the tight timeframe we are not in a position to provide a detailed response, however Robert Simms MLC would like to draw the consortium's attention the following Greens' commitments.

Preventative health

Mr Simms will continue to advance the following in the next parliament:

- Restrictions on advertising junk food and alcohol to children (the Greens have introduced two bills this term – one to prohibit junk food advertising within 500m of schools and on public buildings, and another to ban fast food chains within 500 metres of schools)
- Phasing pokies out of pubs and clubs by 2030
- Free school breakfasts and lunches to ensure school kids have nutritious meals each day
- A policy to expand fitness vouchers to 18-21 year olds to encourage healthy living
- Promoting active transport by investing in cycling infrastructure
- Initiatives to tackle loneliness and social isolation
- Legislative reform to create a 'tobacco free generation' with a ban on cigarette sales to anyone born after a certain date
- Improved access to HIV prevention drug PrEP and sexual health services, including SHINE

First Nations Voice to Parliament

The Greens will continue to support the First Nation's Voice to Parliament and resist any measures to roll this back.

Women's Reproductive Rights

The Greens will strongly defend women's reproductive rights and oppose any measures to restrict the right of women to access abortion health care.

Greens health policy

Further information is available on the Greens SA health policies here:

I hope this information is of assistance.

Thank you once again for the opportunity to respond.
